

Patent Protection

Long term patents are secured in Canada and passed examiners in the US plus current international protection in 153 countries under WIPO (status as of January 1, 2020). Application has been filed with European Patent Office covering 38 member states, ARIPO (offering protection in 19 African states), Israel and Australia. The patent covers all vascular and non-vascular plants so benefits for use of the system for food crops are expected to have even greater economic impacts as forestry.